Rungsan Srilert, Thailand

Certificate III in Children's Services

Diploma of Children's Services (Early Childhood Education and Care)

Recipient of Endeavour Scholarship Award

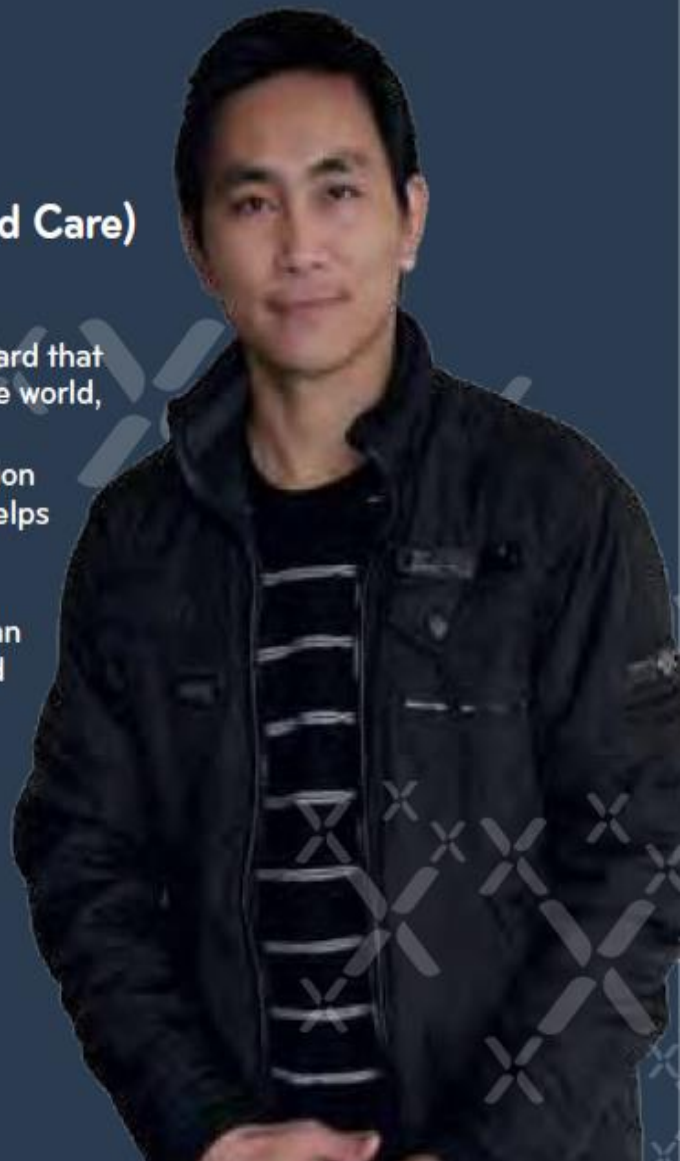

Rungsan Srilert was attracted to study in Australia for a variety of reasons. He had heard that the weather was good, that the Australian education system was among the best in the world, and he thought studying here would provide a step forward in his career.

Having worked as a qualified nurse in Thailand, Rungsan has developed a strong passion for the care of young children. "I would like to one day work in an organisation which helps refugee children in Thailand, and in neighbouring countries, like Laos, Cambodia and Myanmar," Rungsan said.

With both his experience and clear career ambition, Rungsan was selected to receive an Endeavour Scholarship, enabling him to come to Australia and study in the specialised area of Children's Services.

When Rungsan first came to Box Hill, he admits having some difficulties with the language barriers. But as time passed, he felt more comfortable with the change. "There are so many people here to support me. The help I am receiving from International Support Services, like the advice with my assignments, has been such a great help," he said.

Rungsan is thoroughly enjoying his studies, which involves spending one day a week on a work placement at a local child care centre. As part of this experience, he helps with setting up activities, storytelling, food preparation and spending quality time with the kids. "I'm learning so much from my supervisor who is really experienced in this area. I'm learning just as much from the children which is really nice!"
